New Directors contribute to vision of Foundation

The OMS Foundation welcomed the diverse perspectives and career experiences of two new Directors who joined the Board in 2020 – just in time to help update its Strategic Plan.

Debra M. Sacco, DMD, MD, was a full-time faculty member at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill before transitioning to private practice in 2001. She serves as AAOMS District III Trustee, Chief OMS at Duke Regional Hospital and a reviewer for the North Carolina Medical Board. She is an ABOMS Diplomate and served as an ABOMS examiner for five years.

David Basi, DMD, PhD, completed his OMS residency and PhD in oral biology at the University of Minnesota, where he was Associate Professor for nine years. He also is an ABOMS Diplomate and divides his time between the Boynton Dental Clinic at the University of Minnesota and a private practice he shares with his wife, AAOMS member Julie Chavez, DDS.

Drs. Sacco and Basi fill seats vacated by Drs. Douglas W. Fain and A. Thomas Indresano, who retired as Directors in 2020 but remain active in their support of the Foundation's mission.

A message from the Chair

Long after the details have faded from memory, the defining event of 2020 will be COVID-19. The pandemic affected our lives and livelihoods in dramatic and lasting ways. Many of our donors courageously served on the front lines from the earliest stages, risking their own health to care for those afflicted by this sudden, novel and sometimes fatal virus.

As we begin to see light at the end of this dark tunnel, it illuminates the selflessness and dedication of the OMS community. I offer my gratitude to everyone who contributed their expertise, resources and compassion to the battle against SARS-CoV-2.

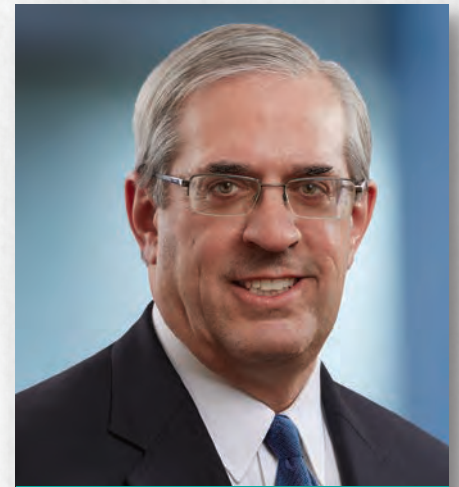

The pandemic impacted nearly every program in our Foundation portfolio in 2020:

- Residents approved for Global Initiative for Volunteerism and Education (GIVE) stipends watched this singular opportunity evaporate when travel restrictions were imposed. Only one resident out of 10 awardees was able to redeem a stipend in 2020.
- The AAOMS Clinical Trials Methods Course scheduled for April 2020 was canceled. Funding for this program and travel scholarships for attendees have been deferred until in-person meetings no longer pose a health risk (possibly in 2022).
- Research teams that scarcely launched their 2020 investigations struggled to find ways to be productive without access to labs or colleagues. Being scientists, many prevailed in surprising ways.
- National, regional and state OMS society meetings were canceled or held virtually, curtailing our interactions with current and prospective donors. Zoom meetings, emails and phone calls became our primary communication tools.

Across the specialty, our community found ways to cope, and the Foundation was no exception. Board and committee meetings were conducted virtually while staff worked remotely, continuing to fulfill our mission to the best of our ability.

Despite the pandemic, we posted some significant achievements in 2020. Following a strong launch in January, OMSFIRE (OMS for Innovation, Research and Education) sustained steady growth. Conceived as a long-term fundraising engine, OMSFIRE recognizes donors who commit to an annual gift of $2,500 or more to the Annual Fund for five years. Even with a “compassionate pause” in fundraising from March to July, new names were added to the OMSFIRE donor roster each month. By year-end, we had enrolled 66 donors whose gifts will contribute more than $290,000 each year to the Annual Fund through 2024. Thank you to every one of our charter OMSFIRE donors. Your generosity was a lifeline during this difficult year.

The Resident Transitions into Practice Conference was held in February, followed by the inaugural Principles of Head and Neck Oncology for the OMS conference in March. These were the only face-to-face educational programs AAOMS offered in 2020, and we were proud to support them with grants.

The achievement we are proudest of was the launch of a Clinical Research Support Grant, offering $150,000 over two years to support clinical investigations addressing issues of critical importance to the specialty.

The Committee on Research and its Chair, Dr. Brent Ward, deserve accolades for their meticulous review of the many applications received last year and their identification of projects that will deliver maximum value to the specialty. At the Committee’s recommendation, our Directors awarded our first Clinical Research Support Grant to the University of Pennsylvania to support an ongoing study of the efficacy of non-narcotic pain management strategies for OMS patients. Translational research such as this was identified as a top priority in the Foundation’s 2018 Strategic Plan and will remain so for the foreseeable future.

The Board also approved two Student Research Training Awards, three Research Support Grants and a new allocation to support AAOMS’s anesthesia simulation validation study. In addition, the Board approved funding for two Faculty Educator Development Awards (FEDA).

In a year that demanded creativity, ingenuity and perseverance, the OMS Foundation’s Alliance Committee delivered that and more. Led by Chair Angie Henderson, the Committee pivoted to a virtual platform for its outreach and fundraising programs, raising $10,000 for GIVE via its Virtual ‘FUN’draiser and Health Walks.

Accolades also are due to those selected for our prestigious awards in 2020. We look forward to recognizing Dr. Eric Geist (winner of the Torch Award), Dr. Scott Boyd (recipient of the Research Recognition Award) and Dr. A. Thomas Indresano (selected for the Gerald E. Hanson Outstanding Service Award) onstage at the 2021 AAOMS Annual Meeting.

Our capable and dedicated staff kept the Foundation’s operations running while working remotely. Their diligence was a major reason the Foundation accomplished so much in 2020. I want to especially thank our Executive Director, Scott Farrell, MBA, CPA, who retired in 2021. His leadership has helped make the Foundation a better organization, and we are confident Karin Wittich, CAE, who took the helm as Executive Director of AAOMS and the Foundation, will continue our trajectory of success.

Finally, I would like to express my gratitude to the Foundation’s Board of Directors for its insights, advice and dedication to the Foundation’s goals over this past year. Under its leadership, the Foundation ended the year with approximately $17 million in net assets and allocated $675,000 for research and education in 2021. The Board’s first order of business in the new year will be refreshing the Strategic Plan for 2021-24, continuing its pragmatic stewardship of the resources entrusted to the Foundation.

Every achievement cited was underwritten by the generous support of you, our donors. We are grateful beyond measure to the individuals, corporations and OMS societies who support our mission through OMSFIRE and other gifts to the Annual Fund and to our R.V. Walker Society members, whose legacy gifts will sustain the specialty well into the future.

Sincerely,

William C. Passolt, CPA

Foundation MVPs honored at AAOMS Annual Meeting

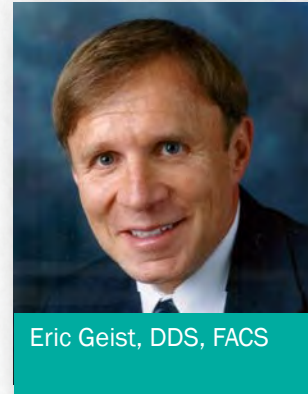

During the Opening Ceremony of the 2020 Virtual AAOMS Annual Meeting, before an audience of AAOMS and IAOMS members spanning multiple continents and time zones, three of the OMS specialty's most respected members were recognized for their service and contributions to the OMS Foundation.

Recipients of the Foundation awards in 2020 were:

Torch Award: Eric Geist, DDS, FACS

The Foundation's most prestigious award recognizes individuals or organizations who have provided exceptional service to the Foundation. Dr. Geist served as a Director of the Foundation from 2016-18 and its Vice Chair in 2017-18.

He was a tireless advocate for the Foundation's mission while serving the specialty as AAOMS District III Trustee and President as well as President of ABOMS and the Southeastern and Louisiana Societies of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons. A generous supporter of the Annual Fund, Dr. Geist is a bronze OMSFIRE donor and a member of the R.V. Walker Society.

Eric Geist, DDS, FACS

Research Recognition Award: Scott Boyd, DDS, PhD

Dr. Boyd is Professor of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, Retired Faculty of Vanderbilt University Medical Center, having chaired the school's Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery from 1997-2007. Dr. Boyd is a bronze OMSFIRE donor and a member of the R.V. Walker Society.

Since 2008, he has focused his attention exclusively on multi-disciplinary clinical research related to the diagnosis and management of obstructive sleep apnea with funding from the Foundation and the National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences at NIH. His team's findings have been extensively published in major medical journals and were recognized with the Foundation's Daniel M. Laskin Award for the most outstanding article published in the Journal of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery in 2013 and 2019.

Scott Boyd, DDS, PhD

Gerald E. Hanson Outstanding Service Award: A. Thomas Indresano, DMD, FACS

This award recognizes outstanding champions and advocates whose support for the Foundation demonstrates extraordinary stewardship. A lifelong educator, mentor and leader, Dr. Indresano served as a Foundation Director from 1992-94 and 2010-12. As an AAOMS Trustee and newly retired from the OMS department chairmanship at the University of the Pacific School of Dentistry, he helped craft and implement the Foundation's Strategic Alliance with AAOMS.

At the end of his term as AAOMS President in 2019, Dr. Indresano rejoined the Foundation Board for a third time and announced, with his wife Rita, a $100,000 legacy gift to the Foundation. Dr. and Mrs. Indresano are consistently generous supporters of the Foundation's annual campaigns, most recently contributing a gold leaf to the Centennial Tree and committing $25,000 to OMSFIRE in 2020.

A. Thomas Indresano,
DMD, FACS

Daniel M. Laskin Award

The 2020 Daniel M. Laskin Award recognizes the authors of the most outstanding article published in the Journal of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery in 2019. The Journal Editorial Board selected “Maxillomandibular Advancement Improves Multiple Health-Related and Functional Outcomes in Patients with Obstructive Sleep Apnea: A Multicenter Study.” Its authors are Scott B. Boyd, DDS, PhD, Vanderbilt University Medical Center; Radhika Chigurupati, DMD, MS, Henry M. Goldman School of Dental Medicine, Boston University; Joseph E. COVID-19 delivers delays, disruptions and inspiration to researchers

Each year, the OMS Foundation selects funding programs that show promise to advance the OMS specialty and improve outcomes for its patients, but the COVID-19 pandemic disrupted nearly every program in its 2020 portfolio.

Only the Resident Transitions into Practice Conference and Principles of Head and Neck Oncology for the OMS conference were held as scheduled. A nationwide shutdown of educational institutions, laboratories, clinics and practices upended the plans of research teams for whom working from home was impractical or impossible, and “Plan B” became the order of the day. Research Support Grant recipients received deadline extensions to complete their work and looked for creative and productive uses for the extra time and unusual circumstances.

Funding for the Clinical Trials Methods Course was deferred until the program could be offered safely in its traditional format, and global travel restrictions delivered disappointment to senior residents hoping to cap their OMS training with a week of humanitarian service supported by a Global Initiative for Volunteerism and Education (GIVE) stipend.

The following is a list of programs selected for funding in 2020, with adjustments noted for the pandemic:

Research Support Grants ($75,000 each) awarded – each delayed and deadlines extended – to:

- University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center for “Magnetic resonance neurography and diffusion tensor imaging of peripheral trigeminal nerve injuries: Surgical correlation and outcomes prediction” (Stephen B. Milam Award recipient)
 - Principal investigator: Avneesh Chhabra, MD
 - Co-principal investigator: John R. Zuniga, DMD, MS, PhD
- University of Toronto for Oral and Maxillofacial Objective Structured Assessment of Technical Skills (OMOSATS)
 - Principal investigator: Marco Caminiti, DDS, MEd, FRCD
 - Co-principal investigator: Mark Shuren, DDS, FRCD
- University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston for “Development of surgically implantable minor salivary gland-based constructs for treatment of Xerostomia”
 - Principal Investigator: Mary (Cindy) Farach-Carson, PhD
 - Co-principal investigator: Simon Young, DDS, MD, PhD

- University of North Carolina School of Dentistry for “Orthognathic speech pathology”
 - Principal investigator: Laura Anne Jacox, DMD, MS, PhD
 - Co-principal investigators: Tim Turvey, DDS, FACS; and George Blakey, DDS

Other awards included:

- Anesthesia and patient safety study – $75,000 (delayed and deadline extended)
- Two Faculty Educator Development Awards (FEDA) – $270,000
- Student Research Training Award ($12,500) awarded to Massachusetts General Hospital (delayed and deadline extended)
- Surgical Council on Resident Education (SCORE) – $20,000/year for 2019-21
- Support of 2020 Clinical Trials Methods Course – $30,000 (delayed and funding deferred)
- Support of 2020 Resident Transitions into Practice Conference – $5,000
- Support of Principles of Head and Neck Oncology for the OMS conference – $5,000
- Nine Norma L. Kelly Resident Spouse Scholarships – $9,000 (funding deferred)
- 10 Global Initiative for Volunteerism and Education (GIVE) stipends – $25,000 (funding deferred)

OMSFIRE donors stand up for Foundation in pandemic year

In January 2020, the OMS Foundation rolled out OMSFIRE (OMSs for Innovation, Research and Education), a high-visibility program recognizing donors who commit to a recurring gift of $2,500 or more per year for five years to the Annual Fund.

Many of the Foundation's existing recurring donors upgraded their commitments to become OMSFIRE donors in 2020. Despite a mid-year "compassionate pause" in fundraising, 66 donors accepted the challenge to "stand up for the specialty" by year-end, promising $1.45 million to support the Foundation's mission and programs over five years.

Treloar & Heisel, Inc., was the first of several generous lead OMSFIRE donors, announcing a platinum-level gift of $100,000. Dr. and Mrs. Victor L. Nannini, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Klemmedson and Dr. and Mrs. Colin Bell committed early to gold-level ($50,000) OMSFIRE gifts and were subsequently joined by Dr. and Mrs. Don Tillery Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Guillermo Chacon, the Colorado Society of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons and OMS Associates of Wichita, Kan.

The Boards of AAOMS and the Foundation stepped up quickly to support the new appeal as did several members of the OMSNIC Board. The Rhode Island Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons (RIAOMS) was the first OMS society to commit to OMSFIRE, pledging $12,500 over five years to earn bronze-level recognition.

"RIAOMS is proud to be an OMSFIRE society donor," Society President Dr. Frank Paletta said. "The Foundation enhances and supports our wonderful specialty by funding research and education with the ultimate purpose of improved patient care. Our society shares this goal, and it was an easy choice to become a recurring donor."

Platinum and gold OMSFIRE donors are recognized with a gold lapel pin in the shape of the Foundation torch. Silver ($25,000) OMSFIRE donors receive an OMSFIRE tie or scarf in recognition of their generosity.

The Foundation extends its sincere thanks to its inaugural OMSFIRE donors. Find the roster of OMSFIRE contributors at OMSFoundation.org/donor-impact.

A pandemic silver lining: fighting COVID-19 with tissue-engineered salivary avatars

By Mary C. Farach-Carson, PhD, and Simon Young, DDS, MD, PhD

The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston School of Dentistry

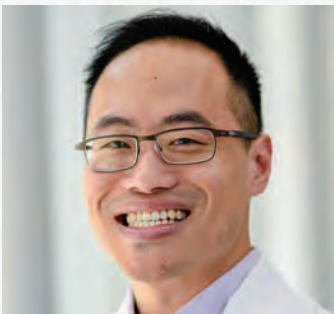

2019 Research Support Grant recipients: “Development of Surgically Implantable Minor Salivary Gland-Based Constructs for Treatment of Xerostomia”

Mary C. Farach-Carson,
PhD

Millions of patients suffer from dry mouth caused by aging, medications, postsurgical radiation for head and neck cancers or gland loss due to injury or disease. Researchers at the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston School of Dentistry searching for a cure for this affliction happened upon a related line of inquiry that may shed light on the increased infection rate of new COVID-19 variants.

Led by Mary C. Farach-Carson, PhD, and Simon Young, DDS, MD, PhD, the team was testing the effectiveness of “avatars,” tissue-engineered, cell-based replacement tissue designed to permanently restore saliva production. The team’s tissue source has traditionally been the major glands, parotid primarily, from surgical patients. A 2019 Research Support Grant from the OMS Foundation supported a new line of inquiry to determine if an equivalent and more available source could be obtained from minor salivary glands in the lips, easily extracted during common OMS procedures.

Simon Young,
DDS, MD, PhD

In a fortuitous twist, the pandemic also offered an opportunity for the team to investigate how SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19, enters oral tissues, including salivary glands. Using salivary tissue “avatars” and a SARS-CoV-2 pseudovirus with the spike protein, the team is studying how infection of salivary glands leads to presence of spreadable virus in saliva. The team plans to seek additional funding to examine salivary gland infection with the new variants of SARS-CoV-2 to determine if a salivary route might explain part of the increase in infectivity that has been reported in the United Kingdom and South Africa variants.

Corporate donors remain steadfast in their support

It could have been much worse. Market volatility, government-mandated shutdowns and a steep dropoff in elective medical care prompted a “compassionate pause” in the OMS Foundation’s fundraising from March to June 2020, but its major corporate donors didn’t waiver in their support.

Treloar & Heisel’s $100,000 gift, payable in five annual installments beginning in 2020, launched the Foundation’s new OMSFIRE program with a platinum donation. The commitment continues a history of generous support for the Foundation valued at more than $270,000, including multiple major gifts and introduction of a customized life insurance policy with the Foundation’s R.V. Walker Society as beneficiary.

The 2020 Spring Appeal, slated for May 1 to June 30 with a $25,000 gift-match challenge supported by U.S. Oral Surgery Management (USOSM), was postponed until September. USOSM graciously agreed to the schedule change, and the appeal was rescheduled for Sept. 1 to Oct. 10 to coincide with the Virtual AAOMS Annual Meeting. Donors responded to the opportunity to “double their impact.” The challenge goal was met and matched, and USOSM committed to renew its support in 2021.

OMSNIC renewed its support of the OMS Foundation Alliance in 2020 with a $10,000 gift to support the Norma L. Kelly Resident Spouse Scholarship Fund ($7,500) and the Global Initiative for Volunteerism and Education (GIVE) program ($2,500). Travel restrictions and the pivot to a virtual platform for the AAOMS Annual Meeting precluded any disbursements for these programs in 2020, and OMSNIC requested the funds be directed toward the future needs of these programs.

The Foundation’s year-end appeal coincided with news of an imminent vaccine for COVID-19 and a gradual increase in confidence among OMS practitioners.

OMS Partners, LLC’s $25,000 gift-match challenge helped generate $190,000 in new gifts in November and December, and OMS Partners committed to renew its support in 2021.

Alliance events raise $10,000 for GIVE

AAOMS's decision to deliver its 2020 Annual Meeting as a virtual event precipitated a quick pivot to a digital format for the OMS Foundation Alliance Committee, but the Committee's flexibility, creativity and determination were rewarded with a generous outpouring of support from the OMS community.

The Alliance's popular upscale luncheon was replaced with a ticketed Virtual 'FUN'draiser for the Global Initiative for Volunteerism and Education (GIVE) program hosted by Alliance Chair Mrs. Angie Henderson and delivered via Zoom. Highlights included a video testimonial from Dr. Douglas Baasch, whose 2019 GIVE stipend facilitated a 10-day "trip of a lifetime" serving with a humanitarian healthcare team in Vietnam.

Mrs. Kimberly Baasch followed her husband's message with her own story of attending the 2019 AAOMS Annual Meeting as a family, courtesy of a Norma L. Kelly Resident Spouse Scholarship. AAOMS Immediate Past President Dr. Victor L. Nannini shared his admiration for the Alliance, the programs it supports and the opportunities these programs offer to residents.

Dr. and Mrs. Larry Nissen invited their favorite culinary maestro, Chef Alfredo Giulio, to prepare a trio of Italian appetizers for a video at Alfredo's Paradiso in Florida. The chef's lively and entertaining cooking demo was a highlight of the Virtual 'FUN'draiser, along with his Q&A session moderated by Dr. Nissen. The generous support of Dr. and Mrs. Nissen and the Alliance's loyal corporate donors helped cover the fundraiser's production costs.

Canfield Inc., which would have marked 25 years of support for the Alliance Health Walks at the 2020 Annual Meeting, instead offered a registration challenge for the Alliance's first-ever Virtual 'Together in Spirit' Coast-to-Coast Health Walk for GIVE, matching the first 50 $25 registrations with a $1,250 check. In all, 78 virtual walkers registered to support the event and the Alliance, and many sent photos for inclusion on the event webpage.

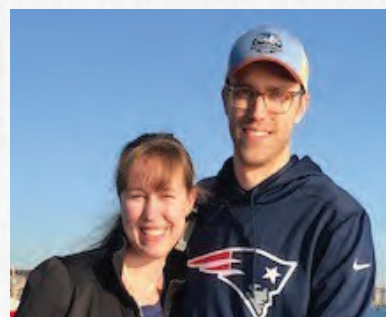

Event registrations, boosted by generous donations from Virtual 'FUN'draiser and Health Walk participants, enabled the Alliance Committee to achieve its goal to raise $10,000 for GIVE in 2020.

R.V. Walker Society

The OMS Foundation’s Robert V. Walker Society was established in 1997 to honor Dr. Walker’s myriad contributions to AAOMS, the OMS Foundation and the OMS specialty during his lifetime. Dr. Walker was a teacher, a mentor and a friend, and his commitment to education was unwavering. His namesake society was created to secure the future of the Foundation and its mission to support research and education.

Donors’ legacy gifts help stabilize unstable year

Ten years ago, neither Dr. George W. Oatis Jr. nor Dr. John S. Bond could have foreseen the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on their beloved OMS specialty. Yet, both took action to prepare for it.

In addition to supporting the OMS Foundation as Annual Fund donors throughout their careers, Drs. Oatis and Bond made the crucial decision years ago to include a $25,000 gift to the Foundation in their estate plans. For this, they were welcomed into the Foundation’s prestigious R.V. Walker Society, which recognizes donors whose generosity extends beyond their lifetimes. More importantly, they helped ensure that, years later, the Foundation’s mission was sustained even in the face of a global pandemic.

The OMS specialty mourned the loss of these two well-liked and respected colleagues in 2020, but their foresight ensured they would be remembered with gratitude upon their passing. Their generosity contributed a positive note to a year marked by economic volatility.

Dr. Karen Crowley was welcomed into the Walker Society in 2020 after notifying the Foundation of a $50,000 bequest in her will. She credits Drs. Jack Farnham, Paul Danielson, Phil Maloney and Don Booth with modeling an attitude of responsibility for the future of oral and maxillofacial surgery.

“I hope that my legacy donation will help support the success of future generations of oral surgeons in this dynamic, forward-looking profession,” she said. “I know that my actions alone can’t make that happen, but many of us working together can ensure the continuing vitality of oral and maxillofacial surgery. It gives me the greatest satisfaction to contribute to the ongoing growth of this wonderful specialty.”
