

Investing in innovation.
Advancing the specialty.

Louis K. Rafetto, DMD, MEd
OMS Foundation Chair

Doing better – together

“How can we do better?” – a principal theme of our inaugural Faculty Lunch & Learn at the 2022 Annual Meeting – was a question we asked often in 2022. In a continuing effort to “do better,” the OMS Foundation collaborated with AAOMS, our corporate partners, our colleagues in academia and you – our donors – to identify and address the evolving needs of our rapidly evolving specialty.

As a Foundation donor, you provided the “seed money” to support the crucial first year of potentially groundbreaking science. You collaborated on every research project we funded – including multi-year clinical investigations – regardless of your aptitude for lab work or statistics. You helped to cover program costs and welcome residents to AAOMS education programs, offered support and encouragement to early-career faculty and helped to recruit and retain the best candidates for OMS residency.

As a Foundation donor, you helped accomplish all of this – without rescheduling a single patient. And we could not have accomplished any of it without you. Read on to learn more about all that we achieved together – and know that we are grateful.

You supported an expanding knowledge bank for OMSs in 2022

With your support, OMS researchers applied technology and creative thinking in 2022 to questions related to patient-specific cancer research, the reliability of biomarkers in the treatment of severe infections and applications for artificial intelligence to support surgical decision making. Each of these projects received a $75,000 Research Support Grant from the Foundation.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Your donations helped to advance and protect the specialty's office-based anesthesia delivery model

With leadership from Dr. Sharon Aronovich and funding from a Clinical Research Support Grant from the Foundation, researchers at the University of Michigan are working to develop and validate a standardized anesthesia simulation training curriculum for OMS residents. (read more here)

Conner Nielsen, DDS
Loma Linda University OMS Program

You helped to recruit top talent to OMS residency programs

A total of 10 high-performing dental students at Loma Linda University and University of Alabama-Birmingham received research training, one-on-one mentorship and a personal introduction to the OMS specialty from OMS faculty at those institutions, supported by Student Research Training Awards.

"As a Student Research Trainee, I had the chance to interact with patients and participate in the research process. The experience only increased my interest in OMS as a career. Thank you for this opportunity!"

– Conner Nielsen, DDS
Loma Linda University OMS Program

You provided training and mentorship opportunities to aspiring OMS researchers

The Foundation provided major funding for AAOMS's Clinical Trials Methods Course, including travel scholarships for three OMS residents.

"This was an excellent opportunity to collaborate with peers, mentors, faculty and academicians to design, present and defend a clinical research project. Highly recommended for every OMS resident interested in clinical research!"

– M.K. Spinella, DMD, MD

Dust off your passport: GIVE is back in business

After a two-year hiatus imposed by the COVID-19 pandemic, seven residents were approved for Global Initiative for Volunteerism and Education (GIVE) stipends in 2022, defraying the travel costs of serving with OMS-led international humanitarian healthcare teams.

\(read more here\)

Donations to GIVE surpassed $88,000 in 2022, thanks to generous support from the OMS Foundation Alliance, Canfield Inc., AAOMS, OMSNIC and a lengthy list of generous individual donors, many of whom donated in tribute to one of the specialty's most revered humanitarians, Dr. James Bertz. Donations to GIVE are restricted for exclusive use by that program.

Drs. Adam Abel (left) and Andy Vu in Bangladesh

You helped strengthen the OMS academic sector with expanded opportunities for faculty

In addition to funding two FEDA grants (administered by AAOMS), your donations supported the addition of two new programs for faculty in 2022 including:

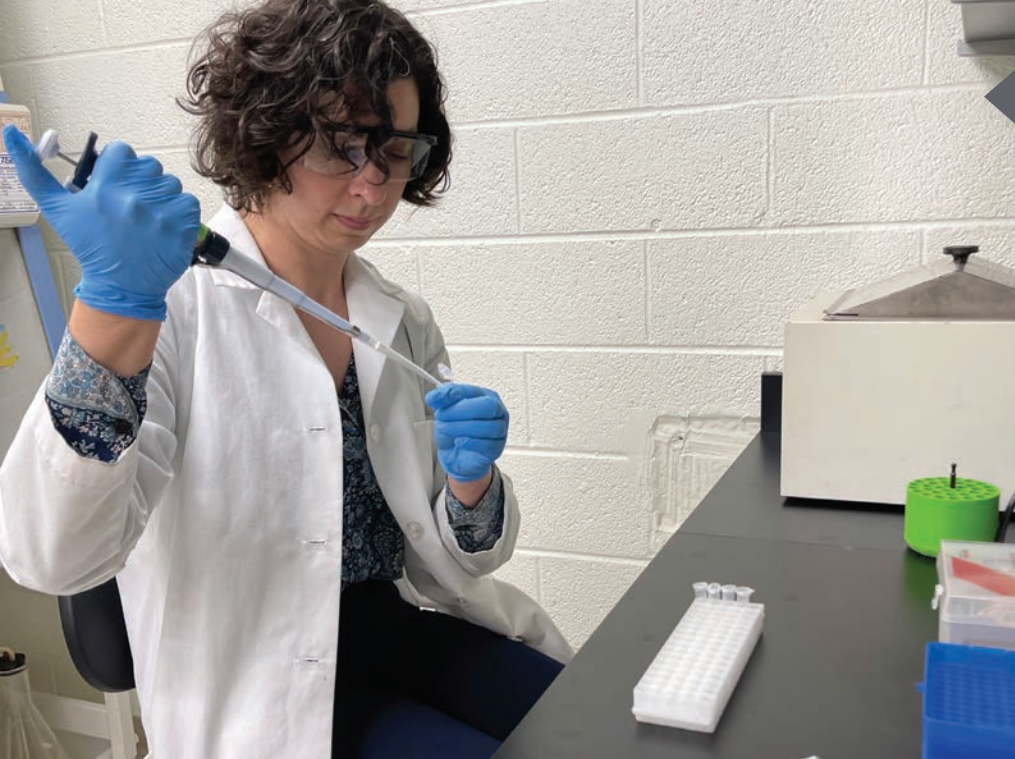

- Enrollment subsidies for OMS programs enrolling in SCORE
- A free Lunch & Learn for faculty at the 2022 AAOMS Annual Meeting:

“How to identify, enroll and retain the best candidates for YOUR residency program.”

– Mara Schenker, MD, FACS, Chief of Orthopedics at Grady Memorial Hospital

“As an OMS Residency Program Director, I found the 2022 Faculty Lunch & Learn to be both enlightening and beneficial, and we have made some changes to our approach and selection process to help us recruit the best residency candidates for our program. I also appreciated the lunch!”

– Robert L. Flint, DMD, MD, FACS, University of Louisville

Your continued support is underwriting a diverse array of programs in 2023:

At its meeting in November, the Board approved Research Support Grants for three innovative and promising projects aimed at improving the odds and outcomes for head and neck cancer patients and those undergoing reconstruction of complex soft-tissue defects of the head and neck.

Also approved were:

- A $150,000 Clinical Research Support Grant to Allegheny General Hospital in Pittsburgh to measure the effectiveness of quarterly anesthesia emergency simulation training over a two-year period (read the Project Summary)
- A Student Research Training Award to Texas A&M
- Two FEDAs for disbursement in 2023
- Financial support for CSIOMS, including travel scholarships for 10 residents

(Find a list of projects launching in 2023 here)

Foundation donors contributed $1.4 million to support its mission in 2022, including tribute gifts honoring our specialty's heroes

Dr. O. Ross and Sheryl Beirne

- The Washington State Society of OMS paid tribute to its “first couple” – Dr. O. Ross and Sheryl Beirne, retiring after decades of leadership and service to the Society and the University of Washington – with more than $105,000 donated to the Foundation in their honor. (read the story here)

“I was lucky to have been trained by someone as skilled and knowledgeable as Dr. Beirne. This becomes more apparent each day that I am in practice, and I am forever thankful!”

– David Ludwig, DDS, MD

Dr. James Bertz with pediatric patient

- OMSs from Oklahoma, Texas and across the country recognized Dr. James E. Bertz, whose extraordinary contributions as a surgeon, educator, speaker and longtime healthcare volunteer inspired more than $65,000 in donations to GIVE (Global Initiative for Volunteerism and Education) in his honor. (read the story here)

*“As long as I see the ss end of Jim Bertz’s horse on the trail ahead, I know there is trail left for me. He is the inspiration that keeps me on the trail.”

Supporting the Foundation is the most impactful thing we can do as oral and maxillofacial surgeons to advance our specialty and, in turn, benefit our patients.”

"I learned from my dad and partner in practice, Dr. Richard Nelson, that oral and maxillofacial surgery is the best profession in the world, and we must do everything in our power to protect, promote and advance our specialty."

– Steven R. Nelson, DDS, MS

MANY volunteers contributed their time, expertise and enthusiasm to advance our mission

The Foundation owes a debt of gratitude to its volunteers, including Directors and the hard-working committee members who identify, fund and manage an array of programs curated to meet the evolving needs of the OMS specialty. In addition, dozens of local volunteers helped champion the Foundation's mission at state, regional and national OMS Society meetings in 2022.
